World Premiere

"I want to completely transport the viewer to another dimension, a place out-of-time, a world of all-encompassing doom, a mist shrouded atmosphere that will seep into your unconscious." - Dante Tomaselli

Iconoclastic surrealist (and IndieFest alumnus) Dante Tomaselli returns with this visually dazzling chiller inspired by classic genre films and shot entirely on location in the New Jersey Pine Barrens region. Satan's Playground follows the nightmarish vacation of the Bruno family after their car breaks down, they get lost in the woods and discover the myth (and reality) of the New Jersey Devil. With Ellen Sandweiss (Evil Dead) and Edwin Neal (The Texas Chainsaw Massacre).
